

Command

Exclamation Mark

Question

Statements

Bring me my slippers.

Can you help me with my homework?

How much does a whole pizza cost?

Ouch! That pan is hot!

Go to your room!

I love to eat pizza for dinner.

Pick your sweatshirt up off the floor.

Clear your dishes from the table.

Get the mail out of the mailbox.

Watch out for that car!

My favorite color is blue.

Our team won the basketball game!

I got an A+ on my spelling test!

Can you help me tie my shoe?

Can you pass me the remote control?

I had ice cream for dessert.

Pass in your homework.

Line up for recess.

Put your jacket on before you go outside.

I like to play games on my computer.

Throw your garbage in the trashcan.

What is your favorite color?

How old are you?

Who is your best friend?

My birthday is June 24, 2003.

Did you eat chicken for dinner last night?

Do you like to play baseball?

That knife is sharp!

I can type fast on the computer.

I don't want to go to the grocery store!

Name _____ Date _____

Questions, Commands, Statements, and Exclamations

After sorting the sentences into the correct categories, rewrite 4 sentences for each category under the heading where they belong. When you have finished writing the sentences, create super sentences that follow the correct form. For example: I would write, " Do you have a blue color pencil I can use?" under the QUESTION section. Be as creative as you can.

Questions

Commands

Statements

Exclamations

If you finish early, you can create more sentences and have someone figure out what kind of sentences they are.